Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 4-9, drawn to an isolated DNA molecule capable of transcription to an mRNA which is a modified from a form encoding a nucleocapsid protein of an L serogroup Tospovirus so that it does not translate to the nucleocapsid protein, a recombinant DNA expression system comprising an expression vector comprising said DNA molecule; a transgenic plant cell or plant comprising said DNA molecule, and a method for treating a plant cell comprising transforming a plant cell with said DNA molecule, classified in class 435, subclass 419, for example.
- II. Claims 10-18, drawn to a method of imparting to a plant cell resistance to infection by an I or L serogroup tospovirus, comprising transforming a plant cell wit a DNA molecule encoding a nucleocapsid protein of a L serogroup Tospovirus and wherein the encoded nucleocapsid protein is expressed; a transgenic plant containing heterologous DNA encoding a nucleocapsid protein of a L serogroup Tospovirus and exhibits resistance the L serogroup Tospovirus and serogroup 2 Tospovirus classified in class 800, subclass 279, for example.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation. The untranslatable DNA molecule and method comprising its use of Group I, and the method comprising expressing a nucleocapsid protein of Group II do not require each other. Further, the nucleotide sequences used in both groups can be produced by alternative means, such as chemical synthesis.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
